

2 Thorncliffe Road,
Brixton, S.W.

2 April 1887

Dear Sir,

I am very much obliged by your answer to my enquiry, although I was greatly disappointed to find that no help could be got on your side the Atlantic towards our work. Since your letter was received, I have attacked the American publications with vigour, and we are pushing on: I am looking forward to seeing Dr. Asa Gray at a few points.

Turning to your remarks on the Bentham Bibliography, I am sorry that the omissions should exist. Sir Joseph Hooker had the list compiled. He put it in my hands; to it I added 38 which he had overlooked. As to the addresses, you may like to know that they will be completely indexed in the General Index to Simons Journal vols. 1-XX, & Proceedings 1838-86, which I am now preparing for the printer. The work you query

^{is} [15^a] Scrophularinearum revisio, aut. G. Benthau. 8^o. pp 1-6 The text being from Bot. Reg. sub t. 1770 (June 1835)

With kind regards,

Sam. Dear Sir

Yours faithfully

Wm. J. Hooker

By Serena Watson.